Final Nine Weeks of 18-19

The final nine weeks of the school year starts Monday. That means students have nine weeks left to pass classes. To pass a class, students must earn a cumulative score of 280 points for each class, averaging 70 per nine weeks. If students do not earn that score, they have failed that class for the year. If a student fails two classes, they will be required to attend summer school. Three failing grades equals a student remaining in their current grade.

Please encourage your student to complete assignments, including homework, and to try their best on Unit tests.

TCAP starts April 9th! Are You TNReady?
